City of San Antonio Communications Office: 207-7234

Second Public Meeting scheduled for Camp Bullis Joint Land Use Study

The City and the Camp Bullis Joint Land Use Study Executive Committee are hosting a public meeting to discuss the Camp Bullis Joint Land Use Study (JLUS) at 7:00 p.m. on Thursday, November 20 at the Reagan High School Cafeteria, located at 19000 Ronald Reagan Drive.

Interested residents and stakeholders can learn about the JLUS program and provide input on the issues and opportunities related to land use compatibility around the Camp Bullis area. The Camp Bullis JLUS includes portions the City of San Antonio, Bexar, Comal, and Kendall counties.

Funded by the Department of Defense, Office of Economic Adjustment, the JLUS is a collaborative planning effort between active military installations, surrounding counties and cities and other affected agencies. "We are committed to preserving the military's mission in San Antonio," said Councilman Louis Rowe. "This meeting provides an excellent opportunity to let the community know about all the intense efforts we are undergoing to protect Camp Bullis," he added.

Subsequent forums will be scheduled in 2009. For more information, visit www.campbullisjlus.com or call 207-2712.
