

-----Original Message-----

From: Janellen Valle [mailto:Janellen.Valle@sanantonio.gov]

Sent: Thursday, April 14, 2011 7:56 AM

To: [Deleted]

Subject: Burglars

Good Morning Everyone!

Yesterday was a great day for our unit. I made one burglary habitation apprehension off of Powhatan and arrested one scruffy looking meth user with a felony warrant. He was someone I was familiar with as an associate of SH. I'm sure quite a few of you will remember that name.

My coworkers were able to apprehend a female burglar just across the highway from you guys. The detective who handled her yesterday will be riding along with me this afternoon. I mentioned to him that a few of you have contacted me and suggested that a couple of your burglaries may have been committed by a female due to some of the strange articles that were either moved and left in the home, or taken in the burglary.

If you are one of these, please email me and mention some of the items you were missing or you noted were moved by the burglar in your case, especially the small items which seem odd or minor, such as missing hairspray/cologne, things of that nature. She is a very young Hispanic female with a light body frame and short dark hair. This goes to show that not all criminals fit into a certain mold. She was believed to be with a couple of other males who were located, but could not be positively tied to the crime.

I will be getting more information later during my shift. Thanks everyone!

Janellen

5020 Prue Rd
San Antonio Police Dept.
210 207-5828