

-----Original Message-----

From: Janellen Valle [<mailto:Janellen.Valle@sanantonio.gov>]

Sent: Monday, June 20, 2011 11:50 AM

Subject: Fireworks

Hey Everyone,

The [Deleted] just brought to my attention a very important even coming up here shortly, July 4th. I know there will be no legal fireworks popping unless something changes in the coming weeks so you might want to be prepared should the neighbors start breaking out the roman candles come night time. The proper number to call for non-emergencies (fireworks) is 207-SAPD. There should be officers working overtime on fireworks calls, but there are literally thousands during these holidays. I would strongly recommend hosing down your rooftops if you can and the vegetation in your yard as well that evening. If you are one of those people who refuse to give up the holiday firework popping tradition despite the extreme drought we are in, please don't cry when I confiscate your fireworks and give you a very expensive ticket. In the meantime, let's just hope we get some rain. Thanks everyone!

Janellen Valle #0258

5020 Prue Rd
San Antonio Police Dept.
210 207-5828